BLACK AFFAIRS
ADVISORY BOARD

Miami-Dade County's Black Affairs Advisory Board

The Black Affairs Advisory Board (BAAB) falls under the Office of the Miami Dade County Board of Commissioners (BCC) and was created to serve in an advisory capacity to the BCC on issues affecting citizens who emanate from the African Diaspora. The Board was created in 1994 and is also charged with making its constituents aware of the tax-supported services available through their local, state, and federal entities.

Over the past few years, the Black Affairs Advisory Board (BAAB) has revamped its emphasis and moved toward advocating on behalf of a more diverse community as Miami-Dade County has evolved. The subcommittee structure was revamped and adjusted according to those needs as identified by its current members. These various subcommittees are charged with the responsibility of dealing with their respective issues and include: The Black Heritage Planning Committee; Education; Health Care; Housing; Economic Development; Budget and Finance; and Crisis Intervention/Respect Life; and the Haitian American Emergency Relief Committee (HAERC), a 501c3 organization.

The Black Heritage Planning Committee sponsors some of the board's most recognizable programs including Black History Month programming and the annual "Pillar Awards" and "Young Pillar Scholarship" which recognizes individuals and students. Since its 2005 inception, the "Young Pillars" scholarship program has provided post high school financial assistance to over 100 students.

Another significant accomplishment of the BAAB is the continuation of the "State of Black Miami" which the board has convened since 2018.

MAYOR
MIAMI-DADE COUNTY

Greetings!

As Mayor of Miami-Dade County, I'm proud that we are home to a thriving Black community. From the historic communities of Overtown, Richmond Heights, Liberty City, Goulds, Little Haiti and Coconut Grove, to the thriving cities of Opa-Locka, Miami Gardens and North Miami – our County is a beacon of hope for the African diaspora.

Working in collaboration with the Black Affairs Advisory Board, the Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust, the Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce and the Miami-Dade County Small Business Division, among others, my administration is working to chart a path towards greater prosperity for the Black community. Pre-pandemic Miami-Dade had over 86,000 small businesses employing close to 1 million workers. More than 80 percent of these businesses have fewer than 10 employees. Miami-Dade County has also consistently ranked in the Top 3 Metro areas for the percentage of minority-owned and women-owned businesses. According to FIU research, about 37 percent of Miami-Dade business owners are Black, Hispanic or women – more than double the U.S. average of 18 percent.

These businesses are key economic engines that fuel our economy. My administration is committed to helping our small businesses, in collaboration with our technical assistance partners, to thrive. I congratulate the Black Affairs Advisory Board for developing the Black World Guide. This directory is a useful resource for all Miami-Dade County residents and businesses as we build a more inclusive, resilient economy.

Yours in Service,

Daniella Levine Cava
Mayor, Miami-Dade County

Daniella Levine Cava
Mayor

OFFICE OF THE CHAIRMAN
BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

THE HONORABLE
Oliver Gilbert

It is a fact that Miami Dade County's Black residents have played a pivotal role in the establishment and growth of one of the United States' most populous and prosperous cities. Forty-four percent (44%) of the four hundred and forty-four citizens who signed the charter establishing the City of Miami in 1896, were of African descent and since that momentous occasion, the Greater Miami Region has become a world-wide powerhouse.

Our beaches and climate beckon the world to our shores and the rich cultural and linguistic diversity that make Miami-Dade attractive is one of many reasons Black Miami has not only survived but thrived.

I hope that this Black World Guide will showcase the many facets that tout inclusion in the economic ecosystem that makes this County remarkable, while making all Miami Dade County residents aware of the many civic, cultural, social and businesses headed by Black Miami Dade County.

As Chairman, I have the honor of serving one of our country's most diverse populations while representing the various constituencies that comprise our community. It is my hope and desire this 2023-2024 edition of the "Black World Guide" can provide an overview and serve as a catalyst to support the businesses and organizations contained within these pages.

This edition of the Black World Guide comes at a pivotal time in our history. This publication is a testament to the strength and resilience of South Florida's African Diaspora and represents a cross-section of our cultural, professional organizations, business enterprises as well as our increasingly important religious institutions.

Miami-Dade County is one of the most ethnically diverse cities in the United States, and this publication is representative of that fact. The Miami Dade County Black Affairs Advisory Board is one of many boards that advocate for our demographic. For over forty years, we have faced the many challenges presented to our community and make every effort to advocate for equity on many fronts. We have sought to find ways to uplift our community and make it our mission to elevate our residents while making them aware of the many services available through Miami Dade County government.

On behalf of the Black Affairs Advisory Board, we hope that this publication will be helpful in making fruitful connections to our rich cultural and economic partners.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Pierre E. Rutledge". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name being the most prominent.

August 2023

Dear Friends:

Thank you for this opportunity to congratulate the Black Affairs Advisory Board (BAAB) on its publication of the newest edition of the Black World Guide. The Black World Guide is an indispensable resource for the residents of Miami-Dade County.

BAAB does amazing work for our community and its voice is more important than ever. I have the deepest admiration for the commitment and dedication of BAAB's volunteer members. And, of course, I must commend Retha Boone-Fye, BAAB's longtime Program Director, for her excellent work. BAAB's success and impact in the community would not be possible without her efforts.

I look forward to working with BAAB on the important issues facing our community. Keep up the good work!

Sincerely,

Laura Morilla
Executive Director
Office of Community Advocacy

This 2023-2024 Black World Guide represents the culmination of many hours of research aimed at uncovering the many African Diaspora organizations that exist here in Miami-Dade County. It represents the vibrancy and survival of the Black World Community, which has been a part of this metropolitan area since the incorporation of the City of Miami in 1896, where 44% of the City's incorporators were of African descent.

The Black Affairs Advisory Board, along with our community collaborators look forward to recognizing and supporting the many businesses, civic, social and professional organizations represented in this document. Hopefully, it will encourage both residents and visitors to support and recognize the resiliency of those who live, work or do business here in Miami Dade County.

Many thanks and appreciation to all who worked hard on this guide - in particular volunteer Shirley Ellison, who spent many hours making this publication possible.

Retha Boone-Fye
Program Director

Disclaimer

This edition of the "Black World Guide" once again represents the Black Affairs Advisory Board's effort to connect the organizations, programs and businesses that represent the Black World Community here in Miami Dade County.

Every effort has been made to include those organizations, programs, businesses and other entities. Omissions however are possible in these type endeavors. Please bring any omissions to our attention preferably by email to Retha. Boone-Fye@miamidade.gov or by fax to (305) 375-5715.

Organizations represented in this guide are mostly non-profit and their views or services are not necessarily endorsed or recommended by the Black Affairs Advisory Board or Miami-Dade County.

The compilation of these organizations, businesses or other entities would not have been possible without the assistance of several individuals and organizations. Our sincere appreciation is extended to Shirley Ellison; Desmond Alufohai; Edryse Meus; Yvans Morisseau; Zachary Rinkins; Robert Parsons and LaToya Byrd (MDEAT); G. Eric Knowles; Matthew Piggatt and Beverly James, (Miami Dade Chamber of Commerce); LaWanda Wright-Robinson; Gary Hartfield (SBD); Creative Soul Photography; Jannesha Johnson; Board member Sandy Sears, Francheska Salguero, Sonia Winters, and Erika Perez (CCED) and others.

Greetings, family:

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to express my sincere enthusiasm and support for this Black World Guide—an initiative that resonates deeply with our mission at the Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust.

In our ongoing commitment to fostering economic growth and equitable opportunities, we recognize the critical role that Black businesses play in our community. The Black World Guide is a beacon of empowerment, highlighting these businesses and underscoring their significance in our journey toward a more inclusive economy.

Supporting Black businesses is not just about commerce; it's about building a stronger, more resilient community. These enterprises are not only sources of innovation and job creation. They embody the aspirations and talents that characterize our diverse culture. By showcasing these businesses through the Black World Guide, we amplify their voices and extend their reach, driving economic prosperity for individuals and neighborhoods that have been historically underserved.

At the Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust, we firmly believe that we owe it to ourselves to optimize businesses within Miami-Dade County's targeted urban areas. By actively engaging with the Black World Guide, we take a step towards dismantling barriers and biases, fostering an environment where every business, regardless of size, can thrive and contribute to our shared prosperity.

I encourage you to join us in supporting the Black World Guide initiative. Let us come together as a community, recognizing that economic empowerment knows no bounds when fueled by collaboration and determination. By investing in Black businesses and those serving underserved communities, we make a lasting impact—one that ripples through generations and leaves a legacy of progress.

Thank you for your dedication to our community's economic vitality. Together, we can build the prosperous future we deserve.

Warm regards,

Bill Diggs
Executive Director
Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust

Naranja

Once filled with the sweet succulent scent of oranges emitting from miles of groves growing throughout the area, the neighborhood was appropriately named Naranja from the Spanish word for orange. With a local pronunciation of Na-Ran-Jah, the current day community is now filled with a mixed population of Hispanic and Black residents. It was once a stop for the Florida East Coast Railroad that ran through the town. Today, Naranja is a growing residential and farming community with a desirable rural hometown ambience. The steady population growth combined with the area's proximity to historical sites and major highways makes it a good place for new business development. There are many attractions and great destinations close to Naranja such as the Everglades, Biscayne National Park, and the Florida Keys. The area is bounded by S.W. 248 Street to the north; S.W.268 ST to the south; S.W.134 Avenue to the east; and South Dixie Highway to the west.

Goulds

Goulds is an equally mixed community of Black and Hispanic residents. The neighborhood has its roots in the expansion of the Florida East Coast Railroad and subsequently named after an operator Lyman Gould. Once known as a saloon town catering to field workers, the community has evolved into a working-class population of close-knit families. Highlights of the South Dade community include Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, and many small storefronts and shopping plazas that cater to the local population. The targeted urban area is split across Old Dixie Highway with S.W.212 Street to the north; S.W.232 ST to the south; the Florida Turnpike to the east; and SW 127 Ave to the west. It is also minutes away from such larger cities as Homestead and Florida City.

Richmond Heights

Once a beacon of Black middle-class success, Richmond Heights was one of the first planned communities for Black war veterans and professionals. It was conceived in the 1940s by social visionary Captain Frank C. Martin and became home to such professionals as university professors, Fortune 500 presidents, Tuskegee Airmen and medical physicians, according to information contained on the www.miamisrichmondheights.com website. The current inhabitants of the southwest Miami-Dade community are second, third, fourth and fifth generation residents of these neighborhood pioneers. The community borders S.W.136 Street to the north; S.W.152 Street to the south; S.W.103 Avenue to the east; and S.W.117th Avenue on the west. Its proximity to major cities like Homestead and Florida City continue to make it a desirable place to live and raise a family.

West Grove / Coconut Grove

Nestled between the opulence of Coral Gables and the equally appealing eastside of Coconut Grove, the West Grove has been designated as one of Miami-Dade County's targeted urban areas. The area's rich Bahamian influence dating as far back as the 1880s, spawn such cultural celebrations as the Goombay Festival and the historic architecture of its adorned business corridor. The area was recently designated "Little Bahamas." The neighborhood is roughly bound by Bird Avenue to the north; Marler Avenue to the south; S.W.32 Avenue to the east; and South Dixie Highway to the west. The neighborhood's proximity and historic appeal have attracted a heightened level of desirability from across ethnic groups and socio-economic classes. The area is predominantly composed of Blacks of Caribbean descent with a growing presence of non-Black residents due to the appeal and gentrification. The East Grove has an abundant array of shops with two large open-air malls, CocoWalk, and Streets of Mayfair. The area is also home to Peacock Park, Dinner Key Marina, Miami City Hall, Barnacle Historic State Park, Coconut Grove Playhouse, the Marjory Stoneman Douglas House, Vizcaya Museum and Gardens, and Miami Museum of Science and Planetarium.

Overtown

Overtown is an historic neighborhood within the City of Miami. It was once designated as a “Colored” neighborhood after the creation and incorporation of Miami in 1896 due to a large concentration of Blacks in the area. The targeted urban area (TUA) designation of Overtown is roughly bound by N.W. 20 Street to the north; N.W.5 Street to the south; N Miami Avenue/ West First Avenue to the east; and I95/ Dolphin Expressway (SR 336) to the west. It is home to several historic churches and landmarks, including the Lyric Theater (Miami), Greater Bethel AME Church, Mt. Zion Baptist Church, and St. Agnes Episcopal Church. Other places of interest include the Dorsey House; Black Police Precinct Courthouse and Museum; Overtown Public Library adorned with paintings of Overtown’s urban expressionist painter, Purvis Young; and L.E. Thomas Building, home of the first Black magistrate in Miami.

Liberty City

With a storied past of “Who’s Who” in African American history, the Miami neighborhood of Liberty City was once a playground for many sports and entertainment greats. Today, it remains the home of a large concentration of African Americans with several Hispanic enclaves in South Florida. The area includes Poinciana Industrial Park and the iconic Miami Northwestern High School. The school is known for its athletic accomplishments and notable alumni including the first Federal Judge Wilkie D. Ferguson; rap artists Trick Daddy and Trina; U.S. Olympics hurdler Tiffany Ross Williams; Barrington Irvin, the first Black pilot to fly solo around the world; motivational speaker Les Brown; and several politicians. The TUA designation is roughly bound by N.W. 79th Street to the north; SR 112 to the south; I95 to the east; and the N.W. 32ND Avenue to the west. Liberty City and the adjacent community of Brownville once thrived as home to prominent figures such as community activist and businessman Kelsey Pharr; M. Athalie Range, the first African American elected to serve on the Miami City Commission; and boxing champion Muhammad Ali.

Model City / Brownsville

Brownsville (also known as Brown-Sub), is a small neighborhood nestled within the northwest section of Miami. During the mid-1960s, Brownsville was a thriving community for Black professionals. Over the decades, however, the area has seen an ebb and flow in population size and work force including a current concentration of blue collar workers and the encroachment of neighboring City of Hialeah. The area is roughly bound by N.W. 79th Street to the north; NW 36th Street to the south; N.W.27th Avenue to the east; and N.W. 37 Avenue to the west. The targeted urban area of Model City/Brownsville is the home to the Brownsville Transit Village which includes the Brownsville Metrorail Station and mixed use residential high-rises. The area is also the location of the historical Hampton House where famous Blacks such as Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., tennis great Althea Gibson and boxing legend Mohammed Ali lodged.

North Miami

North Miami is a metropolitan area located in the northeast section of Miami-Dade County. North Miami encompasses four targeted urban areas: North Miami 7th Avenue Corridor; North Miami West Dixie Highway Corridor; North Miami; Downtown Corridor; and North Miami Biscayne Boulevard Corridor. North Miami has one of the largest concentrations of Haitian-Americans and subsequently, a dominant Haitian American voter base. In 2001, the voters elected Republican Joe Celestin as the city's mayor, making him the first Haitian American mayor of a sizable city in the United States. The North Miami area is bounded on the north by Golden Glades Drive; south by 125th Street; east by Biscayne Boulevard; and west by N.W. 17th Avenue. The city lies on Biscayne Bay and hosts the Biscayne Bay Campus of Florida International University, and the North Miami campus of Johnson & Wales University. The attraction highlights of North Miami are the Museum of Contemporary Art (MOCA), Oleta River State Park, and Arch Creek Park.

ATTRACTIONS

Arch Creek Park was formally dedicated on April 25, 1982, and encompasses an eight acre site at the junction of N.E. 135th Street and Biscayne Boulevard in North Miami. It offers many opportunities for botanical, historical, and archaeological study.

Oleta River State Park is the biggest built-up park in the Florida State Park system. The park is located on 1,043 acres of land and 50 acres of inland water –Biscayne Bay, in the northeastern end of the City of North Miami, and connects the Biscayne Bay Campus of Florida International University.

The Museum of Contemporary Art (MOCA), situated in the heart of downtown North Miami. The Contemporary Art building was designed by the globally acclaimed architect Charles Gwathmey of Gwathmey Siegel, New York.

Opa-Locka

Known for its Moorish-themed buildings and decor, Opa-Locka is a municipality in the northwestern section of Miami-Dade County. It is an abbreviation of a Seminole name spelled “Opa-tish-wocka-locka,” and is spread over the city’s 4.2 square-mile area. The city was founded by famed aviator Glenn Curtiss in 1920 and influenced by architectural décor of the famed fable “A Thousand and One Nights.”

The streets of Opa-Locka are adorned with names like Sabur Lane; Sultan Avenue, Alibaba Avenue, Perviz Avenue and Sesame Street. In addition to its unique architecture, Opa-Locka is the home of the Opa-Locka Executive Airport; Tri-Rail Opa-Locka Station, three parks, and two lakes. The city features a mixed use of residential, commercial and industrial zones and has been the backdrop for such movies as “Texas Justice,” “Bad Boyz I,” and “2 Fast 2 Furious”.

Miami Gardens

The City of Miami Gardens is located within the northern part of Miami-Dade County ending at the Broward County Line. It has two targeted urban area (TUA) designations: N.W. 183 Street which extends from I-95 to N.W. 57 Avenue and N.W. 27 Avenue from N.W. 151 Street to the Florida Turnpike/County Line Road (part of the N.W. 27 Avenue corridor TUA). The name, Miami Gardens, comes from one of the major roadways through the area, Miami Gardens Drive/N.W. 183 Street. According to a 2011 estimate from the U.S. Census Bureau, the city had a population of 109,680, ranking it the third largest city in Miami-Dade County, incorporated in 2003. Miami Gardens, has high percentages of diverse ethnic groups including Bahamians, British West Indians, Colombians, Cubans, Dominicans, Haitians, Jamaicans, and Nicaraguans. Miami Gardens is home to the newly renovated Hard Rock Stadium, which attracts thousands of spectators year round with the football games of the NFL's Miami Dolphins, University of Miami Hurricanes and the annual Orange Bowl college football game. The city also hosts its nationally recognized Jazz in the Gardens Festival at the stadium which attracts thousands of visitors from across the country and the Caribbean Islands attend on an annual basis. Other attractions in Miami Gardens include Calder Race Course and the Stadium Hotel and Conference Center.

Miami Dade County Small Business Development

We are pleased to share our listing of certified Small Business Enterprise (SBE) firms. This section will highlight those local Black owned certified SBE firms and the services they provide to Miami-Dade County.

Small Business Development (SBD) division is the arm of the county government who recruits and advocates for local small businesses economic growth, were mindful of the contract opportunities carved out to SBE firms within the County government and would also like to share those businesses with the community.

We encourage you to look for the various services you may have a need for and to support and patronize them.

Sincerely,

Gary T. Hartfield

MIAMI-DADE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Miami Dade Chamber of Commerce takes this opportunity to support the 2023-2024 “Black World Guide” as continued commitment to serving our community and our members and thanks the Miami-Dade County Office of Community Advocacy’s Black Affairs Advisory Board for making this directory available.

The Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce was founded in 1974 by a group of Black business owners who sought to form a strong organization that could objectively advocate the needs of a growing Black business community. Led by four Presidents, David Fincher (1974-1984) Dorothy Baker (1984-2004); Bill Diggs (2005-2013) and current President G. Eric Knowles (2014 to the present). Understanding that membership is the life blood of the Chamber we have focused on the needs of our membership through education, advocacy, networking, and creating opportunities in both the private and public sectors.

The Chamber has witnessed the evolving landscape of the black business community in South Florida. We see that new energy is being witnessed with the emergence of young, talented and vibrant entrepreneurs blazing new trails and creating new and sustainable business platforms.

The Chamber welcomes your participation in the continued growth and development of the black business community here in Miami-Dade County.

G. Eric Knowles, President
Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce, Inc.

MISSION

The Black Hospitality Initiative of Greater Miami & Miami Beach works to advance economic participation and open doors of opportunity for African Americans and Blacks of African descent in Miami's visitor industry.

To achieve its mission, the Black Hospitality Initiative of Greater Miami & Miami Beach focuses on three program components: Advocacy, Talent Development and Career Coaching.

PROGRAMS

- Airport & Airline Management
- Culinary Arts Alliances
- Event Management
- Hotel & Lodging
- Sports Management
- Travel & Tourism
- Apprenticeships and Internships

Career Coaching – Providing Career Coaching and Job Connections/Networking that lead to employment (internships).
